Thank you, Salvation Army!
The gift of our new 3D printer will be used to create stands for our tablets. In the future we hope to start on adaptive devices. Are there things you would like to see us make? Let recreation know!

Painting on front cover completed by Justin Borgstede and Resident Sally Spehr

Versed in a myriad of art media, our very own Sally Spehr is enthusiastic to teach and lead during the Painting Collaboration w/ Justin on C-Hall. Since COVID has impacted our group activity routines, Justin has been going hall-to-hall each week and asks residents to suggest landscapes they would like to see, and offers a brush to anyone who would like to paint along. Occasionally, some of our fearless residents are willing to take up a brush. Sally--in particular--plans weeks in advance the painting she would like to do on C-hall, sends Recreation a specific list of brushes and items to bring, and then collaborates with Justin and the other residents on C-Hall to create a unique mural. Justin said, "Sally pushes me to expand, learn new techniques, new skills, and tackle paintings I would not have ever imagined doing on my own." Residents enjoy watching as Sally and Justin meticulously plan and execute their paintings together in the hallway. Justin said, "I love having the opportunity to challenge the residents, and in return, it is a blessing to be transformed by the talents and wisdom so many residents are willing to share each and every day." When done, the paintings are hung at the nurses station for residents and partners to enjoy.

We have been able to have our first family visits in our outdoor visiting area. While it has taken some creativity, the "Plexiglass Visitor Center" Meets the existing regulations and has been met with extreme joy and appreciation. We look forward to everyday, as more families will slowly be able to have 2 person visits. This is being organized through out Social Service Department.

We thank all the partners that have pulled together to be sure we have everything to make this happen. Over 90% of the patient contacts who were surveyed are going to be able to take advantage of this visit.

We will continue the FaceTime calls and other forms of communication for the remaining families. Thank you for your continued support.
